DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Safrit et al (3625029).

The disclosure of Safrit et al (3625029) teaches the boxer short type article as claimed including a trunk part (11) being made of a loose fitting textile and leg parts (14) made of a form-fitting textile. Note that the article is circularly knit. Note the spandex or elastic yarn (17). Note the welt (13) and waistband (10). Safrit et al (3625029) also sets forth the method as claimed including the steps of circular knitting a bottom welt (13) a waistband (10), knitting a leg part with a yarn (17) having a higher elasticity than the elasticity of the yarn used for knitting the trunk (11) portion. Note the plating shown in figure 2.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 1/22/07 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that “the Safrit patent does not disclose a boxer short-type article of lingerie or a trunk made from a loose-fitting textile, as claimed.” The examiner disagrees. As indicated in the rejection of 9/20/06, Safrit teaches the boxer short type article as claimed including a trunk part (11) being made of a loose fitting textile and leg parts (14) made of a form-fitting textile. The trunk part (11) is formed of a stretch yarn "having virtually no power in contraction" as set forth column 2, lines 22-26. In the leg parts (14), Safrit adds an elastomeric yarn (17) to "provide an inherent tendency to contract ... with a degree of power in contraction" as set forth in column 2, lines 31-36. Self evidently the trunk of Safrit (11) is loose fitting relative to the leg parts since a greater "power of contraction" has been added to the leg parts via an additional elastomeric yarn (17). Applicant's arguments directed to the warp knit embodiment are moot since the rejection is based on the circular weft knit embodiment of figure 2 as indicated in the rejection of 9/20/06. Concerning applicant's argument that Safrit does not show a horizontal line passing through an upper part of the crotch, the examiner disagrees and notes figure 6, which shows a horizontal line forming a connection in the upper part of the crotch between the crotch and the leg portions.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Art Unit: 3765
